PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

REPLIES TO ACCUSATIONS MADE BY PARKER

Signed Statement Made to the American People—Not a Part of Truth in Charges of Blackmailing Corporations.

Washington, Nov. 4.—President Roosevelt to night made the following signed statement to the American people in answer to charges made against himself and Cortelyou in public speeches by Judge Parker, Democratic candidate for the presidency:

"White, House, Washington, Nov. 4.—Certain slanderous accusations as to Mr. Cortelyou and myself have been repeated time and again by Judge Parker, candidate of his party for the office of president. He neither has produced nor can produce any proof of their truth, yet he has not withdrawn them, and a his position gives them wide currency. I speak now lest the silence of self-respect be misunderstood.

"Parker's charges are in effect that the president of the United States and Cortelyou, formerly Cleveland's executive clerk, then McKinley's and my secretary, then secretary of commerce and labor and now chairman of the Republican national committee, have been conspiring to blackmail corporations. Cortelyou using his knowledge gained while he was secretary of the department of commerce and labor to extort money from corporations, and I, the president, having appointed him for this special purpose.

"The gravest of these charges lies in the assertion that corporations have been blackmailed in contributing and in the implication which, in one or two of Parker's speeches, has taken the form practically of an assertion that they have been promised certain immunities or favors or have been assured that they would receive some kind of improper consideration in view of their contributions.

"That contributions have been made to the Republican committee as contributions have been made to the Democratic committee is not the question at issue. Parker's assertion is in effect that such contributions have been made for improper motives, either in consequence of threats or in consequence of improper promises, direct or indirect, on the part of the recipients. Parker knows best whether this is true of contributions to his campaign fund which have come through his trusted friends and advisors who represent the great corporate interests that stand behind him. But there is not one particle of truth in the statement as regards anything that has gone on in the management of the Republican campaign. Parker's accusations against Cortelyou and me are monstrous. If true they would brand both of us forever with infamy, and inasmuch as they are false heaven heavy must be the condemnation of the man making them.

"If those Cortelyou as chairman of the national committee after having failed successfully to persuade Elihu Root, W. Murray Crane and Cornelius N. Bliss to accept the position. I chose him with extreme reluctance, because I could ill spare him from the cabinet. But I felt that he possessed the high integrity in the man who was to manage my campaign. I am content that Mr. Parker and I should be judged by the public on the characters of the two men whom we chose to manage our campaigns—he by the character of his nominees, Thomas Taggart, and I by the character of Mr. Cortelyou.

"The assertion that Cortelyou had any knowledge gained in any official position whereby he was enabled to secure and did secure any contributions from any corporation is a falsehood. The assertion that there has been made in my behalf and by my authority by Cortelyou or by any one else any pledge or promise or that there has been any understanding as to future immunities or benefits in recognition of any contribution from any source is a wicked falsehood.

"That Parker should desire to avoid discussion of principles I can well understand, for it is but the bare truth to say he has not attacked us on any matter of principle or upon any action of the government save after first misstating that principle or that action. But I cannot understand how any honorable man, a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people, can take refuge not merely in personalities, but in such base and unworthy personalities.

"If I deemed it necessary to support my flat denial by any evidence I would ask all men of common sense to ponder well what has been done in this campaign by Cortelyou and then compare it with what Parker did himself when he was managing Hill's campaign for governor; and to compare what has been done as regards to great corporations and moneyed interests under this administration with what was done under the last Democratic administration while Mr. Olney was attorney general. I would ask all honest men whether they seriously deem it possible that the course this administration has taken in every matter from the Northern Securities suit to settlement of the anthracite coal strike is compatible with any theory of public behavior save the theory of doing exact justice to all men without fear and without favoritism. I would ask all honest and fair-minded men to remember that the agents through whom I have worked are Knox and Moody in the department of justice, Cortelyou in the department of commerce and labor and Garfield in the bureau of corporations, and that no such act of infamy as Parker charges could have been done without all these men being parties to it.

"The statements made by Parker are unqualifiably and atrociously false. As Cortelyou has said to me more than once during this campaign, if elected I shall go into the presidency unhampered by any pledge, promise or understanding of any kind, sort or description, save my promise, made openly to the American people, that so far as in my power lies I shall put it that every man has a square deal, no less and no more.

"Theodore Roosevelt.

GOVERNOR ODELL.

New York, Nov. 4.—Governor Odell took the matter of Judge Parker and the shipbuilding company in a speech to night.

"For the first time in my recollection a Democrat has seen fit to attack a president. I have stood alone heaped on my head, but when I find men parading as trust 'busters' when the contrary is the truth I feel it is not honest and is only being done to get your votes.

"I said Parker had been connected with trusts. I know it. I know Parker had $30,000 shipbuilding stock, and the reason I know it is because he came to me and asked me to let him have it. I know it because I instructed my agent to give it to him and he paid for it. I can produce documentary proof in a few hours by going to Newburgh, where it is.

"I know he had stock in the steel trust and I will furnish proof and do it in fifteen minutes after I get to Newburgh. A man who is attacking trusts ought to come into court with clean hands. Roosevelt, on the contrary, has been pulling down trusts. Honestly always wins, and Roosevelt has 100 per cent of honesty in his make-up.

"Parker has gone about in the last few days assailing the Republican candidate for president. I have stood silent when abused personally, but when he impugns the honesty and integrity of Theodore Roosevelt it is time for every decent man to rise up and resent anything that may be said to the detriment of the great and courageous man who fills the presidential chair to day.

PARKER WILL REPLY.

New York, Nov. 4.—The statement issued by President Roosevelt and the chief of the Governor Odell, when the governor made certain charges against the Democratic candidate for president, were shown Judge Parker at a late hour. The judge had decided not to make any more speeches during this campaign, but after reading the president's statement and the governor's speech he announced he would make a reply, which will be delivered to morrow night. Parker would make no comment on the statement and speech to night.

ABBREVIATION TREATY

Negotiations Initiated Between United States and Germany.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Negotiations have been initiated for a treaty of arbitration between Germany and the United States. Several days ago President Roosevelt suggested to Ambassador Sternburg that a treaty of arbitration between the United States and Germany would, in his judgment, be very desirable. Sternburg coincided with this view and communicated with his government. This afternoon Sternburg called upon the president and informed him the German government had expressed itself as entirely agreeable to the president's proposition and that he had been directed to open formal negotiations for such a treaty. These negotiations will be conducted by Sternburg on the part of Germany and Secretary Hay for the United States.

MURDERER KILLS HIMSELF

Burlington, Iowa, Nov. 4.—The body of Jacob Graves, who yesterday shot and killed Thomas Layton, was found in his cabin on Fry's island to day by officers who were pursuing him. He had shot himself.

DEPUTIES HAVE WARM SESSION

Paris, Nov. 4.—The chamber of deputies held a tumultuous session to day over renewed interpellations on the subject of the policy of War Minister Andre, alleging he was personally cognizant of the system of spying upon officers. During the time when the minister was making his reply Gen. J. Jacquy exclaimed the minister lied. Jacquy, however, withdrew the words.

CANADIAN ELECTION RETURNS

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 4.—There is no material change in the standing of parties in yesterday's contest. In Ontario there are some constituencies in doubt, but the result will probably be 13 Liberals and 71 Conservatives. Six elections are yet to be held in Ontario. They were Liberal in the last parliament.

FOUGHT TEN ROUNDS

Detroit, Nov. 4.—Charles Forbes, of Chicago, and Harry Cobb, of Detroit, fought ten rounds to a draw here to night.

CONTRADICTORY STATEMENTS

COMMENTED ON BY FORMER SECRETARY WAR.

Elihu Root Speaks of Parker Allegation Concerning Relations Between Cortelyou and Corporations.

New York, Nov. 4.—Former Secretary of War Root was the principal speaker at the Republican meeting at Durand's riding academy to night.

After citing and commenting on what he considered contradictory statements in Parker's recent utterances, Root referred to the Democratic candidate's allegation concerning relations between Chairman Cortelyou and corporations in the matter of campaign contributions. Root quoted Parker's statement on this subject and continued:

"There must have been some improper motive or means in the contribution. The judge says Cortelyou, as secretary of commerce and labor, got into the secrets of corporations, and Cortelyou, he says, by this organized impertinently—that is, the organization impertinently was Cortelyou, who had been secretary of the department of commerce, being chairman of the national committee; and he also in other statements that he makes indicates that these trusts have contained promises or pledges in regard to future treatment which will be accorded them by the administration in case of Roosevelt's election. Both of these charges in truth reports are absolutely and totally false. There is not one word, one sentence of truth in either of them. Neither the department nor Cortelyou nor the president had any information or secret of any corporation or trust that you or I or any one of us have not Cortelyou resigned from the department in June last, never to return to it, and he can have no more to do with corporations in the future than Thomas Taggart would have if Parker were to be elected.

"Cortelyou's chief duty is not to collect funds for the purpose of securing the election of the president, and he has not performed any such duty. He has had little or nothing to do with collection of funds. He has been attending to the different and manifold duties of managing the presidential campaign all over the United States, and money to pay the expenses of that campaign has been raised by a committee appointed in each of the principal cities under direction of Cornelius N. Bliss. The fact is that that fund has come from more than two thousand separate contributions, given freely and gladly, without demand or importunity or pressure from committee or any one. It is the smallest fund we have had for twelve years—about half the Republican fund when McKinley was elected in 1896 and about half the Democratic fund when Cleveland was elected in 1892."

SENATOR FAIRBANKS

Devoted Yesterday to Making Speeches in Indiana.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 4.—Senator Fairbanks to day covered territory in southern Indiana between Terre Haute and Evansville. He made fifteen speeches during the day's trip. The evening meeting in this city was notably large and enthusiastic. The day's tour was mostly through the coal mining region of Indiana and miners in many instances formed a large part of the senator's audience. To them he emphasized desirability of continuance of Republican rule, because, he said, it was under Republican administration that all the prosperity had come to the mines, the farms and factories during the last seven years.

A large portion of the country through which Fairbanks passed to day is regarded as a Democratic stronghold of Indiana and there were occasional cheers for Parker, but in the main the reception accorded the senator was cordial and enthusiastic.

THANKS FOR 'UNCLE JOE'

New York, Nov. 4.—Chairman Balbock of the Republican congressional committee to day sent a telegram to Speaker Cannon at Danville, Ill., thanking him on behalf of the committee for the magnificent campaign he had made during the past six weeks and predicting the Republicans will elect not less than 200 members of the next house.

BRYAN IN OMAHA

Omaha, Nov. 4.—William J. Bryan was given an ovation to night by several thousand people who heard him discuss campaign issues. Much of his speech was devoted to state affairs. He said he did not expect Parker would give the people all the reforms they wanted, but that from him might be expected more than from Roosevelt.

'CARNegie CHOSEN AGAIN

Edinburgh, Nov. 4.—Andrew Carnegie has been unanimously re-elected lord rector of St. Andrew university.

TO RESCUE CHILDREN

Arizona Governor Will Take Forty Orphans From Hands of Disreputable People.

Prescott, Ariz., Nov. 4.—Attorney General Wells has received a private letter from Phoenix stating Governor Brodie has left there for Clifton and Morehead to gather up forty orphans recently taken away from Sisters of Mercy and prepare at once to return them to New York. It is alleged a majority of the orphans are now in custody of disreputable people, keepers of grog shops and bawdy houses. The children were brought from New York and placed in Mexican families, but were taken by force from the Mexicans by whites. The governor is said to fear trouble when he tries to take the children. He has instructed the Arizona rangers at Douglas to be ready to quell any disturbance.

PORT ARTHUR SIEGE

The Awful Scene Described by a Russian.

London, Nov. 4.—The Mail's Chefoo correspondent has obtained a letter from a Russian in Port Arthur, dated Oct. 27, in which the writer declares it would need the pen of Zola or the brush of Verestchagin to picture the awfulness of the siege. The letter continues:

"The unvarying part of it all is that men meet death in utter silence. One sees the forest of sights, but hears no sounds. One moonlight night I watched an assault of a ghostly mass of moving figures through which continual lines were made by our guns, admitting glimpses of scenes behind. These gaps were closed up as if by magic and the masses surged onward, while our men, forsaking the trenches, sought shelter of the forts. On they came until, when they were close up to us, mines exploded, the earth opened and bodies were hurled high in the air and then sank again to earth. Hands clutched rifles and in the moonlight bayonets looked like fireworks shooting upward and descending point downward into bodies of men.

"We have not a single bottle of ammunitions left. Just think of what agony the wounded must endure! Food is of the coarsest, and even that is becoming scarce, while disease is life and sanitary conditions are deplorable."

WAR REPORTS

St. Petersburg, Nov. 4.—A Mukden dispatch says the Japanese are using dogs to locate positions of Russian soldiers outposts.

Chefoo, Nov. 4.—Chinese who left Port Dalny yesterday morning report that batches of wounded are passing through Dalny and that fresh Japanese troops are constantly going to the front.

It is reported Japanese killed and wounded in front of Port Arthur during the last three months approximate 40,000.

There are persistent rumors the Japanese have occupied the forts of Iliulung mountain and certain forts of the Keelung group, but we informed Japanese here consider these rumors premature. The Japanese, however, are confident the end of Russian occupation of Port Arthur is fast approaching.

Shanghai, Nov. 4.—The British steamer Victoria, which succeeded in running the Port Arthur blockade, has returned here and confirms reports the Japanese have captured all the main northeastern positions of the fortress.

Mukden, Nov. 4.—There was a brisk artillery fire here yesterday, extending from the village of Linshutun eastward on both sides of the railroad, but firing ceased at noon. The Japanese are continuing their concentration opposite the Russian center. Japanese positions along their whole line are strongly fortified and they are now entrenched along the Hun river to the westward.

On Monday on the Russian extreme right a squadron of Cossacks occupied a battery of Japanese artillery near Liaoning, but were repulsed. The Cossacks lost twenty men.

Shanghai, Nov. 4.—Advices reaching Shanghai to day say the Japanese assault on Port Arthur continues with unabated vigor. Russian defense is dogged and determined. The northern portion of east Keelung mountain has been captured by Japanese, who held a furious Russian fire. A fort on the eastern line of defenses was destroyed by explosion of a magazine Nov. 2. Casualties of Japanese are reported to be enormous. The belief prevails the Russian warships will make another attempt to escape.

BANK ROBBERS HAVE ESCAPED

Cody, Wyo., Nov. 4.—The Cody bank robbers have escaped. Members of the posse who have returned say the timber in which the outlaws took refuge has been thoroughly beaten and no trace of the men found. Pursuit has not been abandoned.

FARMHAND KILLS SWEETHEART

Ray City, Mich., Nov. 4.—William Murt, a farmhand, living at Sugar, near here, to day fatally shot his sweetheart, Martha Zuban, and killed himself.

CLEVELAND SPEAKS AGAIN

DELIVERS AN ADDRESS TO NEWARK DEMOCRATS

Speech of Ex-President Devoted to Tariff and Trusts—Parker Will Close His Campaign to Night.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 4.—Former President Cleveland was given a most enthusiastic reception to night when he appeared upon the platform at a Democratic meeting of which he was chairman. The ovation continued ten minutes and the speech was frequently interrupted by cheers.

Cleveland called attention to the fact that it was twenty years ago that he appeared before a Newark audience charged with the responsibility of his party's presidential candidacy. He noted from the Democratic platform of 1881 a denunciation of Republicans for having failed to relieve the people from heavy taxes and quoted the promise of the Democrats to revise the tariff. Cleveland reviewed the effect of high tariff upon the people, claiming that trusts and combinations have multiplied under the Republican policy. In support of this statement he said that at the time the McKinley tariff law became operative there were only thirteen industrial combinations, and just prior to the passage of the Dingley law in 1897 there were eighty. "It must be noted, however, that during about three years immediately before that date the Wilson tariff law was in force. This was a Democratic measure which repealed the McKinley enactment and lowered the duties. While the Wilson law prevailed the creation of trusts and combinations almost entirely ceased, as was naturally to be expected, in view of the fact that the atmosphere of Democratic tariff legislation and policy of the Democratic party is unfavorable to the growth and development of these particular infant industries.

"The Dingley tariff law of 1897 raised the average of import duties to something over fifty per cent and made the high water mark of our country's tariff legislation. Between July 25, 1897, when the Dingley law went into effect, and Jan. 1, 1903, the number of trusts and combinations had increased to 442. The tariff at that time this number has been increased almost to the point where I do not know, but the work has gone meritorily on."

The speaker declared trusts dictate the prices we shall pay for the food we eat, the clothes we wear and the habitation in which we live. "We are within their shadow from the cradle to the grave. Even beyond the grave they follow us. We hear of a tombstone trust, protected by a tariff of 33 to 60 per cent."

Referring again to conditions in 1881, he said: "Then the people were not in the fetters of the trusts and combinations; expenditures of the government were careful and economical as compared with the extravagance of these later days and the rate of tariff taxation which the Democracy then condemned as yielding more than sufficient revenue for the government needs, was moderate as compared with the present exactions. I come again after twenty years. The rate of tariff taxation has increased by one-fourth, expenditures of government have more than doubled, and hundreds of industrial trusts and combinations, the vicious progeny of extreme tariff protection, openly or stealthily search the pockets of our people."

He urged upon the people the necessity at this time of sober, conscientious reflection and exhorted the motto "a doubtful review of the intent of our nation's establishment, character of its mission and its present plight. If this is honestly undertaken and if the exegeses of the hour are clearly seen and patriotically met I shall not fear for the result."

Continuing, Cleveland said: "I will not conclude without speaking of the contemptible charge made by despicable partisans that the Democratic party is not entitled to the confidence of the people in the emergency which has come upon us. The Democracy is conservative, and a conservative government was never more needed than now. The Democracy insists the constitution should be the chart and constant guide of national conduct, and never was renewal of obedience to constitutional command more necessary. The Democratic party regards tariff charges as a tax upon the people, justified only by the necessity of providing for the expenses of their government, and it holds that, like all other taxes, these charges should be as equitably distributed as possible. It condemns tariff legislation for the sole purpose of protection as an unavoidable source of inequality and favoritism and as a promotive of oppressive industrial combinations; and so far as tariff duties imposed for revenue may incidentally result in some degree of protection in it, insists that this should be so arranged to best subserve the general welfare."

"Our party makes no warfare upon the rich, nor upon any legitimate enterprise, its definition of American citizenship is broad enough and just enough to embrace all the people—rich and poor alike—and all corporations and associations of capital, legitimately engaged in legitimate

WARM WEATHER AND ELECTION

INTERFERE SOMEWHAT WITH BUSINESS

Though Increased Activity Noted in a Number of Industries—No Anxiety Regarding the Future.

New York, Nov. 4.—Broadstreet's review of trade says: Warm weather, activity in fall farm work and to a lesser degree anti-election interests have detracted from retail distribution north and west. For like reasons jobbing sales are rather smaller in volume. Against this, however, is to be offset increased activity in a number of industries, headed by iron, steel and allied lines of manufacture. General advance in staple prices covering a wide range of industry is an event worthy of note. Reports from the winter wheat crop are of an immense, possibly a record, acreage in this cereal, but drought and Hessian fly damage reports detract from an otherwise excellent prospect in surplus producing states of the west.

Money is easy and a number of centers report return flow from country districts, a significant indication of financial independence of a large number of producers. Eastern trade reports show irregularity. Dry goods are rather quiet at New York, Philadelphia and Boston. Clothing is not yet active for spring and wools are rather quiet, though raw wool is slightly higher. It has been another active week in iron and steel and the course of prices is still upward. Finished materials show increased activity, with iron underdone.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week were 1,82,000 bushels, against 4,531,000 last year; July 1 to date, 25,531,000 bushels, against 68,212,000 last year. Corn exports were 337,000 bushels, against 1,000,000 a year ago; July 1 to date, 10,610,000 bushels, against 19,833,000 in 1903.

DUN'S REPORT

New York, Nov. 4.—Dun's report says: Business improves steadily and there is no evidence of anxiety regarding the future. Payments are more promptly met, tending to stimulate preparations for coming trade and disposition to limit purchases to immediate needs is gradually disappearing. Conservatism during the summer and autumn was beneficial in reducing stocks to a low point. As the demand broadens this scarcity of supply produces pressure for quick delivery and prices are strengthened. Aside from inflation caused by speculation there is no better sign of commercial progress than advancing commodity markets. All the leading branches of manufacture are in better position, with noteworthy activity at iron furnaces, woolen mills and footwear factories. Traffic reports are satisfactory, railway earnings in October exceeding last year's by 7.5 per cent.

Wholesale progress is recorded in the iron and steel industry, sentimental improvement being succeeded by actual business. Thus far the best news comes from blast furnace contracts for delivery of pig iron running well into next year with further sharp rise in prices. Material is being sought for railway cars, bridges and other supplies, even rail mills receiving unexpectedly large orders. Eastern shoe shops are busily engaged on late fall goods. Prices are fully maintained.

Trade in cotton goods is limited to early shipment, neither element in the primary market seeking to operate beyond business in sight. Woolen goods are strong and moving freely.

Failures this in the United States were 22, against 216 the corresponding week last year.

JOKER KILLED

Springfield, Nov. 4.—James M. Maxwell, president of the local union of United Mine Workers at Virden, was shot and killed by Thomas Hall, a bartender, as the result of a practical joke. Hall was returning home through North park when Maxwell, for a joke, stepped from behind a tree and ordered Hall to throw up his hands. Hall, who had been held up twice recently, drew a revolver and shot Maxwell in the stomach.

FERRYBOAT SUNK IN COLLISION

New York, Nov. 4.—The ferryboat Columbia of the Wall Street line was sunk to day by the Norwich liner City of Lowell. There was no loss of life. A heavy fog on the river at the time caused the collision. There were about a hundred and fifty passengers and seventeen teams on board the Columbia. All the passengers were taken off in safety. Eight or ten horses were drowned.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE DEFEATED

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 4.—After a spirited debate the Vermont house of representatives by a vote of 90 to 57 has refused third reading of the bill granting municipal suffrage to women who are taxpayers.

MUST NOT SUPPLY COAL

London, Nov. 4.—Foreign Minister Lansdowne in a letter dated yesterday informed a British shipwrecking firm that it is not permissible for British to charter their vessels for the purpose of following the Russian fleet with coal.

BIG DEFICIT IN COLORADO IRON

Denver, Nov. 4.—The News to day says a deficit of $1,584,857 for the fiscal year ended June 30 is shown by the annual report of President Hearne of the Colorado fuel and iron company. A year ago the books of the concern showed a profit of $585,112.

BANK CLEARINGS

New York, Nov. 4.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet for the past week were $2,553,749,709, an increase of 50.2 per cent compared with the corresponding week last year.

ROBBERS MAKE BIG HAUL

Warsaw, N. Y., Nov. 1.—The safe of the private bank of John Blodgett at Herkitage was blown open early to day and it is believed between $25,000 and $30,000 was stolen.

The time for voting is coming fast and a few days more will tell the tale. Republicans should be vigilant and do all possible for the ticket.

All persons who want to know how to mark a ballot should be careful to get posted before election. The sheet will be a large one this year and all should be careful to mark correctly.

If the full Republican vote be polled there will be no doubt about the election. If a few men in every precinct stay at home, Democracy and hard times may gain control.

From all indications the people seem satisfied to let well enough alone. A gentleman of this city met a day or two since a life-long Democrat who was from Ireland, and who had begun in this country as an humble laborer, amassing large wealth, and he said he was going to vote for Roosevelt, for it was unwise to change administrations at the present time, and that is a general sentiment.

Edward Atkinson, one of the so-called anti-imperialists, recently prepared a newspaper article in which he attempted to show that the Philippines may have cost, indirectly, over a billion dollars. The letter probably was prepared for the benefit of Judge Parker, for the Democratic candidate gives Atkinson as authority for the statement that the taxpayers have paid nearly a billion and a quarter dollars for the islands. What was Atkinson paid for his misleading article?

Overconfidence has lost many political battles. It is well to feel sanguine, but don't be cocksure until the enemy capitulates; and the only way to force capitulation is to overwhelm your opponents with an avalanche of votes. Cast your ballot early on November 8 for Roosevelt and Fairbanks.

Parker is growing wilder as election day approaches. He now says the Philippines have cost the United States $1,200,000,000. Secretary of War Taft, who was governor general of the Philippines, officially puts the total cost, including purchase money, at $180,000,000. The question naturally arises: Is Parker either sane or sane when he can juggle figures in such an amazing way.

PARKER VS. CIRCUS MAN. As has been frequently remarked of late, the difference between Parker and a circus proprietor is that the circus man has a show.

IT WILL BE WISE

To vote for Bert VanWinkle for state's attorney, for we want the duties of the office performed in a manner that will be for the interests of the tax payers.

To vote for C. L. Hayden for circuit clerk so that we may be certain that the duties of the office, which are so important, will be well performed, as is the case at present.

To vote for Dr. Spencer for coroner, so that we may have a man well qualified for the office professionally and in all respects, and feel that there will be no doubt in the matter.

To vote for J. H. DeLong for superintendent of schools, so that the all important matter of education may be wisely administered by a competent man of experience and excellent ability.

To vote for George Detrick for commissioner, that the important office may be filled by a man who is well up in business methods, a success himself and always ready to do the right thing by all men.

To vote for Mansell Dudney for surveyor, to encourage a worthy man who is trying to make something of himself, and who will do the work of the office in a faultless manner.

In short, it will be wise to vote for all the above and while you are about it, don't forget the legislative candidates, Messrs. Fetzer and Heind, for they are strictly first class men who will serve the people.

PARKER'S WILD STATEMENT

His Own Followers Chagrined at Attack Made by Candidate on Department of Commerce.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Members of the National Business League, regardless of politics, resent Judge Parker's reiterated charges against President Roosevelt, Chairman Cortelyou and the department of commerce and labor concerning a campaign levy on corporations. The department of commerce and labor is the fruit of years of agitation and hard work by the league, and the members, many of whom are Democrats, are indignant because Judge Parker dragged the department in the mire by asserting that it has been used to extort campaign funds from business enterprises under its supervision.

A prominent official of the league, which has headquarters in Chicago, called up the Republican national headquarters yesterday and expressed the deep resentment felt by him and his colleagues at Judge Parker's ill-founded attacks.

"It is a reflection upon the department, of course, and in a sense hits the business men over the country who helped establish it. It is evident that Judge Parker's wild statement will estrange many Democratic business men, who will not stand for such tactics."

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Shoeing Farm Horses.

A shoe should not remain on a young and growing horse more than four weeks nor on any horse more than eight weeks, says a correspondent of Farmers' Advocate. Most shoeing smiths have several bad faults, and the general farmer is to blame for these faults. Many farmers insist on the smith earning his money and want to see him trim the hoof deep real thin "and do a nice neat job of rasping down the front of the hoof." Pretty soon the smith enters into the spirit of the thing, and despite the fact that he knows he is doing wrong cuts away every bit of horn, sole and frog that he possibly can without laming the animal. Keep the knife away from the bars and sole of the foot any further than to remove bits of detached or ragged horn, and never allow a rasp to touch the front of the hoof.

Choosing the Bore.

In selecting the male remember that he is half the herd, says a correspondent of American Agriculturist. He must have a good head, with short nose, wide between the eyes and, if a Berkshire, an erect ear. His body should be long, shoulders well developed, wide between the fore legs, ribs well sprung, loin wide, level and full, with rump and tail head set on a level with his back. The hams should be fully as wide as his side lines and let down well to the gambrel joints. Never keep a boar that has thin hams or a back that drops at the shoulders. This is a weakness and should never be allowed in breeding stock. The legs must be strong, but not coarse, standing well on sound feet that will carry any weight required.

Sheep Profits.

There is one profit from sheep that is not generally considered, which is the increased fertility of the land occupied by them. The farms in Canada that command the highest prices are those upon which sheep have been kept for years, the pastures on such farms being free from weeds, while the crops grown thereon have increased every year, showing a gain in fertility. Sheep are considered valuable agents in enriching the land. They scatter their droppings uniformly and press them into the soil. By keeping the grass close they thicken it, and they destroy weeds because they have a fondness for certain kinds that no other animal on the farm will eat.—Home and Farm.

Care of Young Horses.

Colts of the heavy draft breeds are put into hard work oftentimes too soon merely because they are large and have the appearance of strength, says American Agriculturist. The heavy bone is soft, and the muscles are not closely knit. The three-year-old can do a lot of work without injury, but it must be work that demands no severe straining. It is with even more difficulty that the four-year-old is kept in good condition when worked continuously. Light work demanding no strain is all that can be done safely by the heavy, loose jointed horse until it is five years old.

Brood Sows.

Wheat middlings made into a slop with milk makes a good milk producing food for a sow that is milking a litter of pigs. A sow kept for a breeder should always be made so tame when young as to be easily handled at any time that it may be necessary. The health of the sow and the growth of her pigs will depend very much upon the treatment given at the time of farrowing. The brood sows at least should have the run of a good clover pasture, as it is never advisable to confine them to a dry grain diet when it can well be avoided.

Animals That Don't Get Thirsty.

A parakeet in the zoological gardens has lived more than fifty years without drinking water. Patagonian llamas live for years without tasting water, and a particular class of cows bred near Losere, in France, and used for the richness of their milk, drink extremely rarely.

"EVERYMAN."

Record-Herald: Without any of the artifices of the modern play, "Everyman" was given at Steinway hall last night and moved a reverent audience as few emotional dramas of our own age possibly could. From the prologue to the epilogue of this long allegory, full of turns of expressions so ardent that they are calculated to make the heedless titter, there was not one laugh or one lapse from the most rapt attention and interest.

Indeed, the tension at times was painful, so beautifully did the actors rise to the spirit of the old monkish play, and so completely did they carry their audience with them. The story of the Pilgrimage of "Everyman," the allegorical figure from which the play takes the name, from life and merriment into gloom, expiation, redemption and the grave was related partly, in slow recitation, and partly in colloquial utterance. From time to time strains of music were heard, twice the dull thrumming of a drum resounded through the silent theatre, and again the blasts of a trumpet were heard. From behind the scenes there came once the mutterings of a priest at mass and at the close there came the singings of a concealed choir. That was all in the way of incidental theatrical effect the efforts of the players received. But still the crude power of the allegory, the sublimity of the long dead monk's conception and the devotional spirit of the interpretation melted all hearts. People forgot to conceal their tears and never dreamed of applauding.

We can fill your fuel wants.

Paris, Nov. 4.—Foreign Minister Delcasse announced to the council of ministers to day details of the approaching session of the Anglo-Russian commission in the North sea incident. He says by agreement between both parties Paris has now been formally determined upon for the sessions of the commission about Nov. 10 if arrangements are possible to secure a full attendance by that time. The commission is composed of British, Russians, French and American admirals, one from each country, these four to select a fifth admiral. Delcasse is arranging to give the commission every facility.

(Being reprints of musical news items from the most recent periodicals and newspapers).

AMERICAN NOTES.

News comes from Florence, Italy, of the pronounced success of Miss May Sylvia Elcock, of New Haven, who made her debut last month in opera at Perugia. She has taken for her stage name Sylvia Marcello.

A rare honor has been conferred on an American singer, Mme. Lillian Blauvelt, who has been engaged to sing at five concerts of the Norwich festival in England next autumn. The Norwich festival is the premier event of English musical life, and an engagement there sets the highest seal of distinction on an artist.

Mansfield, Pa., a town of 3,000 inhabitants, has a conservatory of music with 150 students. The town has an orchestra of thirty-five pieces, a military band of like number and a choral society of seventy-five members.

On the evening of Nov. 15, in the Auditorium, Emile Sauret will play his violin concerto, op. 26, in the first faculty concert of the Chicago Musical college. This is the first performance of the work in Chicago and those who have heard it pronounce it to be of unusual beauty.

Kogel, Colonne, Safonoff, Wein-gartner, Karl Panzer of Bremen, and Theodore Thomas will be the conductors of the New York Philharmonic orchestra's concerts.

FOREIGN NOTES.

America is not the only country that claims that its native musicians are pushed aside and their places taken by foreigners. From Holland comes the complaint that the Hollanders can no more make terms in orchestras and opera houses on equal terms with foreigners.

Weber's immortal music to Wolff's "Paeiros" was recently revived in Dresden with great success.

Herr Felix Weingartner has just completed two works for eight part chorus and orchestra. The titles of the pieces in question are "Traumnacht" and "Sturmlynnus."

Cowen, Nikisch, Stanford, Colonne, Elgar and Schuch or Glazounoff will each conduct a concert of the new London Symphony orchestra this winter.

The house in which Haydn died has been bought by the municipality of Vienna, and the Haydn museum installed in the three rooms once occupied by the old master. Haydn is said to have purchased the house in 1793, and there composed the "Austrian Hymn," "The Creation" and "The Seasons." He died May 31, 1809.

Another violin prodigy about to loom above the European horizon is named Miska Elmann. The child is a pupil of Leopold Auer and will take the wind out of Versey's sails, according to report.

PLEASANT PARTY.

A very pleasant party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hogan in honor of Miss September Page. A very enjoyable time was spent in games and other amusements. Those present were: Misses Daisy Wilson, Zora Pierson, Lena Hogan, Serena Herman, September Page, Ella Russell, Clara Sutton, Lucy Smith, Lida Hogan and Fannie Hogan; Messrs. Moscoe Sutton, Wade Williams, Charles Daly, Howard Underwood, Austin Williams, John Hogan, Roy Moxley Riley Daley, Ben Ewing, Carl Mack, Robert Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. Hogan. Delightful refreshments were served.

Lecture recital on "Parsifal" by Mr. N. J. Corey at State St. Presbyterian church, Monday evening Nov. 7, 8 o'clock. Piano, organ and stereopticon views. Admission 50c.

WINCHESTER.

Allen Wells, son of William H. Wells, died Tuesday morning. He had been attending school in Terre Haute, Ind., and over a week ago returned home sick with typhoid fever. His funeral took place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He was a very popular and promising young man and his loss is deeply felt by the family and community. He was 22 years old.

The "old folks" concert, given last week by the young people of the Presbyterian church, was very successful and by request was repeated Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sybrant, of Jacksonville, visited Henry Higgins and family this week.

Circuit court closed Tuesday; Judge Thompson on the bench.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Alden, of Lewiston, Me., are visiting the family of Mr. Trickey.

We have a full fledged skating rink. Come down if you want to scoot.

GAVE DANCE.

A dance was given at the residence of Charles German on Lincoln avenue Thursday evening. About twenty of their most intimate friends were present and enjoyed a pleasant evening. Delicious refreshments were served.

Through the Sierra Nevada Mountains—Utah Peaks—Tennessee Pass—Holy Cross—Scenery Sublime.

FROM MANITOU TO SAN FRANCISCO.
Editor of the Journal: In my demonstration of the value of the mountain to the general tourist, I have an account of the most important places which the general tourist visits. There are many other places around Manitou which I think are equally important. There is the pass, formerly used by the Indians in their descent from the mountains to the "Big Medicine," the name given by them for Manitou, the scenery through this canyon is beautifully grand.
The month of this pass is but a short distance from Manitou and no guide or conveyance is necessary. Two granite cliffs about a thousand feet high form the mouth to the pass. Follow the pass for about one and one-half miles and in many places the path is cut in the side of the granite walls which tower thousands of feet above you and in many places you then you will come to the Rainbow falls, which are beautiful. From here follow the path on the eastern slope to where it makes a sharp turn around a high cliff and you will reach a spur in the mountain where are located some beautiful caves and the most superb scenery. In front of you you can see Pike's peak standing boldly against the blue sky and thousands of feet below you see Williams' canyon, nestled at the mouth of the pass. To your right you see Old Cheyenne and the beautiful valley below. Of all nature's lovely spots few equal and none surpass this in beauty of location, grandeur of surroundings and sublimity of scenery. There are three roads leading to three different groups of caves. Taking Canyon you arrive you will reach a group which will be very interesting to the student of geology, for he will find fossil shells and many well defined remains of animals that are now extinct.
This avenue terminates in Stalactite hall, which is a beautiful room from whose ceiling hang large stalactites. Passing through a narrow passage you come to a beautiful cascade just at the door of the Rotunda, where the stalactites from the floor rise to meet the stalactites which adorn the ceiling. This is the entrance to a fairy place. The room has a ceiling sixty feet high and the walls are of smooth granite and it is about forty feet wide. It is called the Opera House. Here you see Andromeda like Prometheus still chained to the rocks. This stairway leads you to Concert hall, in which about thirty feet from the floor there is formed in the solid rock what looks like an immense organ, the clear stalactites forming the pipes, which range from a few inches to several feet in length, and under the touch of a player they give forth a full, clear musical scale, so that some difficult pieces of music can be played upon them.
The sound resembles in tone that of a fine organ. Passing out from here you see the hanging rock, which looks like an immense boulder caught in the grasp of a giant cliff. Below is Rainbow falls, then the cascade and the Fairy Bridal Chamber. In this canyon you see many caves, grottoes, waterfalls and masses of wild flowers. From this canyon you go to Red canyon, so called from the brilliant color of the rocks. Many interesting places can be found within a radius of five miles and most of them can be reached by electric lines—fare to any of them 10 cents.

Taking the Denver & Rio Grande railroad the next place of interest to be seen is the Royal gorge, the entrance to the Grand canyon of the Arkansas river. At the entrance the train passes between two perpendicular granite walls which are about three-fourths of a mile high from the track. No language can depict the grandeur of the scene. The next place of interest is the Arkansas river bridge. After entering the train moves along the Arkansas river between projecting cliffs of dark granite rocks and as you proceed the rugged peaks become higher and higher until you see nothing but a solid line of blue sky above you. The river is roaring and tumbling over immense buildings along the side of the track and the river becomes narrower and smaller until it looks impossible for the train to get through. The sky looks like a small blue line above you and the stars can be plainly seen. The shade of the overhanging rocks above and the gloom through which Old Sol's rays have never penetrated. In front of you there looks but a small seam or crevice between the towering cliffs whose peaks are lost in the clouds. No tree, shrub or flower grows in this mighty chasm. Beyond the roar of the river and the rumbling of the train no sound breaks the awful stillness and you feel as if you were passing down a Lethal stream to Pluto's realm. Here nature seems to have exhausted her resources in presenting a scene before which language pales in attempting to portray its awful grandeur. Escaping from this gorge the natural valley of the upper Arkansas is traversed until you reach Salda. Here you can take the narrow gauge and go by Marshall pass to Grand Junction and there take the regular train. On this route you go through Poncha pass, which leads you up to Marshall pass as an introductory symphony leads you to the triumphal march of the majestic march. Gradually the view becomes less obstructed by mountains and the eye roams over miles of summits of mountains and you realize that you are in a region that is familiar with the clouds. In looking to your left you behold the most beautiful of the Sierras.
Here the sunlight falls with a transfiguring radiance upon the snow-crowned peaks and spires of the Sangre-de-Cristo range. These dazzling pyramids extend southward until cloud and snow peak conspire to form a vague and bewildering vision. To your right, covered by Oquirry, gloomy and grand. This mountain holds the pass, standing as a sentinel to the gateway of the Gunnison pass. Slowly the train passes about the sides of the mountain until at last it halts on the summit of Marshall pass. The awful stillness of the storm tossed granite ocean lies beneath and you look down upon four lines of rugged, barren, unfettered, the last so far below you as to be lost in the mist. These are only peaks of the almost spiral pathway to the top of Marshall pass. No other, low and admiration at the stupendous grandeur of the scene holds the beholder spellbound as if on the mount of transfiguration and you become lost in the bewildering grandeur that surrounds you at the summit, which is more than two statute miles high. A stop of ten minutes is made, so you have opportunity to ascend the observatory constructed above the summit. Where you have a splendid view of both the Atlantic and Pacific slopes, which is one, if not the finest, view inspiring views on the continent.

The next place of interest you come to is the ascent of the great continental divide. At this point two extra engines are added to the train in order to make it until you reach Poncha pass, which is a tunnel cut through one of the top spurs of the mountain. Just before you enter the tunnel you will see to the right a beautiful lake. This is the head of the Arkansas river, which enters the Mississippi at Arkansas city.
Ark. and is about seven miles south of Leadville. The coming of the water from the west is so rapid that the water flowing westward and you have passed the great continental divide. This line is the headwaters of the Arkansas and Eagle rivers, the Arkansas flowing eastward and the Eagle west. At the foot of Tennessee pass you can obtain a fine view of the Mount of the Holy Cross, which bears upon its bosom the sacred symbol of the Christian faith. This cross is fenced by the great fissures or chasms in the mountain and filled with snow and ice. This snow which is a brilliant splendor, gleams against the azure sky and you realize you have reached the height around whose summit splen-dorous clouds are ever passing. The scenic view you enter Eagle river canyon and awe at this stupendous work of nature takes possession of the mind. Here you are walled in by stupendous cliffs of various colored rocks, which dwellings of the miners in one of the richest mining portions of this mountain district. The rugged and scabrous precipice in the height of these cliff dwellings that suggests irresistibly the fabled caverns of Kor. After leaving this place you soon enter the canyon of Grand river, where you are shut in by high cliffs and where you can only see a streak of blue sky above you. Here begins a kaleidoscope panorama of ever changing views of every form and color in nature. The rugged and scabrous

TO THE VOTER.
All voters must register before the coming election. The last registration day is November 1. On the first registration day the judges of election revised the list, placing thereon the names of all persons whom they knew to be entitled to vote. The registration book is now open for inspection. Those whose names are not contained in it but who believe themselves entitled to vote must personally apply to the board on the Tuesday next preceding the day of the election, which, as above stated, will be November 1. If by any circumstance a man is prevented from registering, who is so entitled, he can swear in his vote at the election by getting some qualified voter to make oath that he is entitled to vote. But this is for emergency cases. To save trouble to himself and to the judges and clerks of the election let each voter see that he is registered.

HOW DEMOCRATS TREAT LABOR
Comparison of Conditions in Republican and Democratic States.
ILLINOIS IS A FAIR EXAMPLE Has Numerous Laws in Force for the Protection of Laboring Man's Interests.

Not a Single Democratic State in the Union Can Duplicate the Safeguards Provided
Here.

Those were embarrassing questions that were put to Senator Tillman a few days ago, during an address in Chicago, relative to the treatment of labor in his own and other Democratic states. No wonder he found it difficult to make reply before an Illinois audience in possession of the facts.

Illinois has a bureau of labor; the senator's state has none. Illinois has official inspection of factories; the senator's state has none and only three out of seventeen surely Democratic states have. Illinois has a state board of arbitration along with eleven other Republican states, while thirteen out of seventeen surely Democratic states have not. Illinois has a free employment bureau, while fifteen out of seventeen surely Democratic states have not. Illinois and fourteen other Republican states have inspection of mines, while only nine Democratic states have such inspection. Illinois and fifteen other Republican states have eight-hour laws, but only five Democratic states have enacted such laws. Illinois has a child labor law limit three years above that of South Carolina, whose child slavery is notorious, and twenty other Republican states have similar laws. Illinois has a law providing for seats for workwomen and so have twenty-two other Republican states, while only eight Democratic states have such a law. Illinois has a sweat shop law and so have ten other Republican states, while one Democratic state in the entire Union has such a law.

Labor has received fair treatment at the hands of the Republican party in the state of Illinois and the nation.
The friendship of the Democratic party for labor has consisted of promises made in doubtful states that are seldom made and never executed in states that have been Democratic for a generation.

Alabama has no bureau of labor, inspection of factories, state board or arbitration, free employment bureau or eight-hour law. It does not regulate the sweating system. The same is true of Arkansas. It is also true of Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, South Carolina and Texas. It is true of North Carolina and Virginia, with the exception that they have bureaus of labor.

There is not a surely Democratic state in the entire Union that can duplicate the measures the Republican party in Illinois has provided in behalf of the just interests of labor in this state.

"Breaking of the Deadlock."
How the nomination of Charles S.
Deneen for governor of Illinois came about is graphically described in a book just from the press, written by J. Mc-Can Davis, of Springfield, entitled "The Breaking of the Deadlock." The book, a volume of 441 pages, with nearly 200 illustrations, gives in detail the history of the campaign of 1903-4 for the gubernatorial nomination and the complete story of the deadlocked state convention, which began May 12 and ended June 3 last. It is made clear that, notwithstanding the fierceness of the contest, the end of the convention found all of the defeated candidates ready to work earnestly for the election of the nominee.

Why the nomination should have been so eagerly sought is explained in one sentence found in a signed statement by "Uncle Joe" Cannon who presided over the convention: "All contestants believed in success at the election." Had there been any doubt on this point the most famous deadlock in American political history would have been impossible.

Mr. Deneen had spoken only a few minutes when the big audience began to feel like it was at home. His speech seemed more like a heart to talk than a public address and every word impressed his hearers. — Springfield Journal.

Deneen has always had a large non-partisan support in his home city. This year the prospect is that it will be larger than ever before, although in the great McKinley campaign of 1900 he ran several thousands above the lamented statesman. Private advices state that the disposition is quite general among good citizens on the Democratic side to throw their support to Deneen for governor. They do not know Stringer, and they distrust the aunples under which he received his nomination. —Rockford Gazette.

Mr. Deneen as public prosecutor has shown himself to possess the very qualities that are needed in the executive office at Springfield. He is able, fearless, careful and thorough in all that he does. He has an intimate knowledge of the needs of people in the way of new laws and changes in present laws. With this knowledge and his wonderful gift in dealing with men there is no doubt that as governor he would be able to secure from a friendly house and senate legislation of great value to the people. —Champaign News.

GOVERNOR YATES'
EFFECTIVE WORK
Executive Is Making Strong Speeches
In Support of the Republican Ticket.

Governor Yates is doing effective service in the campaign. He made his first address at Prophetstown, Ill., to a large and enthusiastic audience. He confined his remarks mainly to state issues, explaining and defending the work of the Republican party, and paying a glowing tribute to Charles S.
Deneen. He put in a strong word for a new primary law, and for the amendment which will authorize a new charter for Chicago.

On the same evening he spoke at a great meeting at Rock Island, where an audience of more than two thousand people was present. Here he took L. B. Stringer to task for insinuating in his campaign speeches that the state institutions have not been properly managed under the present governorship. Mr. Stringer's inconsistency was shown in his making this charge now while failing to do so, if he knew anything to be wrong, while he was a sworn officer of the people during four years' service as a member of the state senate.

CAMPAIGN OF NOISE IS PAST Thinking Man Does Not Need To Be Instructed with a Drum or Spectacular Effect.

The days of torchlight processions, drum beating, red fire and bunting in a political campaign seem to be largely over. This year there is almost none of it in Illinois or elsewhere. And perhaps it is just as well.
It does not indicate that people are less earnest than heretofore, or that they are doing less thinking. In fact it indicates that they are doing more thinking.

The thinking man isn't the noisy man. Thinking and noise don't go together. The thinker is a quiet man, and the people are perhaps quieter now just because they are doing more thinking. They read more now than heretofore. Nearly every man has his daily paper. The rural mail carries the daily paper even to farmers and to those remote from postoffices. The weekly papers are now edited with greater ability than ever before, and the man who reads his county weekly becomes an intelligent man, well posted on the world's movements and the questions of the day.

He does not need to be instructed with a drum, or to be stimulated by spectacular effects to take an interest in current issues. This is why there is less noise and fuss than formerly.
It is a sign of progress, and needs no lamentation.

REPUBLICAN TARIFF POLICY
Protection for the American Workman Is the First Consideration in the Party's Course.

The Republican party is not advocating a tariff for the protection of infant industries. The Democratic statement that our industries are now giants, not infants, is correct, but the other part of the statement, that the Republicans still regard them as in an embryonic state, is not true.

giants, not infants, is correct, but the other part of the statement, that the Republicans still regard them as in an

When these industries were started they were weak and in no condition to compete with similar enterprises in the old world, long established and backed by ample capital. Protection was then absolutely necessary to give them a chance to live. Under protection they grew, flourished and the country prospered; now that they are strong the Republican party insists that they shall not be undermined and toppled over into irretrievable ruin by removing the very foundation upon which they are built.

If the loss of capital invested in manufacturing was the only danger to be apprehended from a reversion to the "tariff for revenue only," alas free trade, system, the calamity might be endured, but such reversion would involve consequences infinitely more calamitous—the enforced idleness of millions of men, the general paralysis of business, untold misery and possibly anarchy and

AT COMPANY L HALL.

A large Republican meeting was held in Company L hall Friday evening under the auspices of the Morgan county colored Republican club. Judge M. T. Layman made the address of the evening, after which each of the county candidates spoke briefly. The hall was crowded to its fullest capacity and enthusiasm prevailed throughout the evening. Mrs. Dr. Kennerly was introduced and spoke on the subject of the Old Folks' home, of which she is president. A collection was taken up for the home, which netted a neat sum. The Malloy Bros. furnished beautiful music for the occasion and were assisted by the colored brass band and the Roosevelt drum corps. Refreshments were served.

IN HONOR OF MISS ANSON.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Andrews entertained a company of young people at a delightful progressive euchre party Friday evening at their elegant home in Turner Place, in honor of their guest, Miss May Anson, of Merrill, Wis. The gracious and cordial hospitality of the host and hostess made the function one of the most pleasant of the fall social season and the evening was one of thorough enjoyment. The prizes were handsome souvenirs of a delightful occasion and Miss Anson, the guest of honor, Miss Anne Hinrichsen and Messrs. Allen F. Ayers and H. H. Bancroft were the fortunate recipients. Delicious refreshments were served.

ILLINOIS NEWS ITEMS

Nashville—Judge James N. Rountree, veteran lawyer, died early Friday morning from the effects of a paralytic stroke, with which he was stricken Thursday evening. Judge Rountree was born in this county 71 years ago and was admitted to the bar in 1867. In that year he was appointed master in chancery of Washington county and served four years; was elected state's attorney in 1876 and served one term; was in the lower house of the legislature from 1882 to 1884 and also served one term as mayor of Nashville.

Pittsfield—Invitations have been issued for the marriage of William S. Foreman and Miss Catherine Kins, prominent young people here, which will take place Dec. 16.

Beardstown—Announcement has been made of the wedding next week of Miss Alice Lee Lightfoot, of this city, and Asa D. Clark, of St. Louis.

Taylorville—The Wabash fast passenger train, due here about midnight, ran into a bunch of eight steers six miles west of here, recently, killing all of them instantly. The small wheels of the engine left the track and ran on the ties for about a mile, when the engine was stopped. The drive wheels of the engine remained on the track, thus averting a fearful wreck. The engine was running at the rate of sixty miles an hour at the time of the accident. The cattle were owned by Fred Munkchenko, of Bear Creek township.

SHOT LARGE EAGLE.

George W. Thompson, of the northern part of the county, shot and killed an immense golden eagle near Prentice recently, which weighed ten pounds, and which measured seven feet from tip to tip. The bird was on exhibition at the Journal office part of Friday and attracted a great deal of attention.

WABASH WRECK

Broken Wheel on Coal Car Causes Heavy Damage—Five Hundred Feet of Track Torn Up.

A wreck occurred on the Wabash at Neelyville Thursday morning at about 5 o'clock. An extra west bound freight train was passing through Neelyville, when a wheel broke under one of the coal cars. The train ran about 1,400 feet before it could be stopped and tore up about 500 feet of track. Two coal cars were thrown off the track and blocked the passage. The officials were notified at once and sent men to the place and work was at once commenced on the repairing of the tracks. The train was pulled by engine No. 772 and managed by Conductor Thomas. No serious damage was done other than the tearing up of the track, which delayed the other early morning trains several hours.

STRIKE ENDED

Holisting Engineers' Union Absorbed by United Mine Workers.

Springfield, Nov. 4.—The strike of the coal holisting engineers' union of Illinois ended to night when the union was absorbed by the United Mine Workers of America. At a joint conference of operators and miners to day the engineers offered to arbitrate, but the operators refused. The brotherhood of coal holisting engineers was then disrupted and the men were given the privilege to resume work at once. The miners sent out notices to night to members of their union to return to work immediately. Should miners and operators be unable to agree on a wage scale for the engineers the matter will be arbitrated.

AT THE GRAND.

"Siberia," one of the best offerings of the theatrical season, was presented at the Grand Friday evening to an audience of small proportions, when the merits of the piece deserved a packed house. The production is given under the direction of William A. Brady and Joseph R. Grismer, and they have certainly a dramatic conception that is worthy of the fullest patronage of the theatre going public.

The cast is an excellent one, evenly balanced, and the situations are brought out in a manner that thrills the audience and holds the interest from beginning to end. The scenery equipment is fully adequate to a first class performance and the play is one of dramatic merit. The high appreciation with which the play was received was evidenced by the hearty applause and repeated curtain calls. The play was without doubt one of the best productions that will be seen here during the present season.

STORMY SESSION.

Paris, Nov. 4.—Discussion of army affairs at to day's sitting of the chamber of deputies was one of the stormiest and most heated in recent years. The excitement culminated when Gabriel Syveton, a prominent nationalist deputy, stepped up to General Andre, minister of war, and slapped his face. After accomplishing this feat Syveton retreated rapidly to the uppermost row of seats, taking refuge behind members of the opposition. A tremendous tumult ensued.

About fifteen of the butcher clerks went to the home of Roy Smith Friday evening and gave him a sample of the old time serenades for young married people. Roy and his bride took it all in good spirit and passed the cigars.

AUSTRIAN RIOTERS.

Insbruck, Nov. 4.—Rioting caused by agitation of Austria's opening a separate Italian faculty of law at the university was stopped by the military to night. It is reported several persons wounded during the rioting have succumbed to their injuries. The rioters wrecked the Italian club and Italian lums, smashed windows in the Hofburg and made hostile demonstrations at the Italian consulate.

ELECTION LAW DECISION.

Columbus, Nov. 4.—The supreme court to day reversed the decision of the circuit court in the matter of the validity of that clause of the election law providing for closing the polls at 4 p. m. in cities of over 300,000 population, and voting will stop in Cleveland and Cincinnati at 4 p. m. election day.

DIVORCED PRINCESS.

Florence, Italy, Nov. 4.—Former Crown Princess Louise, divorced wife of the present king of Saxony, has arrived here, desiring, it is said, to be nearer Rome in order to facilitate negotiations with a view to reconciliation with the king. This is now considered more probable, owing to the death of the late King George, who was implacable.

PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE IT.

Many broad-minded physicians prescribe Foley's Honey and Tar, as they have never found so safe and reliable a remedy for throat and lung troubles as this great medicine. For sale by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

McCoyburg, Ind., Nov. 4.—A band of robbers early to day blew open the post-office safe with nitroglycerine and robbed nearly every store in the village, securing stamps, money and goods valued at $4,800 and escaped.

DEAD BODY FOUND.

Des Moines, Nov. 4.—The body of Tom Wall, of Chicago, was found to day in the underbrush near Afton, Iowa. He had been in the neighborhood about a week and being unable to secure work had literally starved to death.

WOMAN SUICIDES.

Palmyra, Wis., Nov. 4.—Beset by petty annoyances and threatened with a law suit, Mrs. A. D. Love, a wealthy resident of this city, to day committed suicide with strychnine.

A POLICEMAN'S TESTIMONY.

J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia., writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at last a half dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store."

INDORSEMENT

FOR ROOSEVELT

Stands for Fair Dealing Between Capital and Labor—Miltonaires Against Him for Stand Taken.

Pittsburg, Nov. 4.—Theo. J. Shaffer, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, is out in a ringing indorsement and support of President Roosevelt.

In to day's issue of the Labor World Mr. Shaffer contributes a lengthy article setting forth his views. In part it is as follows:

"President Roosevelt is essentially a people's man. He is a man of the masses and his whole soul goes out toward those who have to work for wages. His entire record is a proof of this. He has studied the industrial question of our country for himself and he clearly understands how labor can be crushed by capital. He has most emphatically declared himself on this point.

"He has publicly stated time and time again that as far as he is concerned labor must be fairly dealt with by capital, even though stringent laws have to be enacted to accomplish the object. Declarations of this kind have caused a certain class of millionaires to array themselves against him. In this we have proof that President Roosevelt is looked upon by wealthy capitalists as a friend of labor. This fact ought to prompt wage workers to support Mr. Roosevelt. I want to say emphatically that it is the duty of the working classes to support their friends and most certainly President Roosevelt is one of the best friends we ever had. I firmly believe that President Roosevelt intends to knock on the head every illegal combination of capital there is in this country."

Solid Comfort in Footwear.

Perhaps you are having trouble with your feet, if so, you can get relief by using our cushion sole shoes. Many people that have had troublesome feet have found relief by using these shoes. It is impossible to fully appreciate the real assistance of cushion sole shoes until you have given them a thorough trial, instead of the constant tread on a hard piece of insole, your foot rests on a piece of heavy wool covered over with a light piece of leather. No wonder they are easy.

Dr. Reed's Cushion Sole

It is not strange that people like these shoes. We are showing a broader assortment than ever for fall. In ladies' with or without rubber heels $3.50 to $4.50. In men's $3.50 to $5.00.

Dr. Reed's $4.50 in women's, $5.00 in men's. A large stock of leather boots, rubber boots, felt boots and rubber goods.
